Do you want to learn more about working in Advocacy, Policy and Government Relations? How do you influence policy? How do you work effectively with government? And, how do you ensure your organisation has a voice in critical debates? This is a vital part of work in the Aid, Development & Humanitarian Sector and one that attracts much interest. It can also be a bit daunting so we will bring our usual great speakers to share their experience and knowledge and answer your questions about working in this area. Come along to meet other women in the sector, share a glass of wine and nibbles and make new connections.

For more details, keep an eye on our event page.
